Married in the Synagogue.
Miss Rosa Greenbaum and Max Gittleson, both of town, were married yesterday in the synagogue on West Oak street by Rabbi H. M. Mitnick. Mrs. Teidelbaum was the bridesmaid and Max Rabinowitz the groomsmen. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Nicholas Freilband and the bridegroom is employed as cutter by the New York Progress Company. The synagogue was crowded by friends, many of whom were from New York, Philadelphia, Mt. Carmel and Mahanoy City. A reception and supper at Robbins' opera house followed the ceremony. Citizens complained to the police against the dancing in the hall in celebration of the event and it was stopped.

His "Goose" Cooped.
From Girardville Times.

In an effort to beat time J. F. Collier, assistant superintendent at Shenandoah, for the Prudential Insurance Company, sustained injuries which may prove annoying to him during his remaining days on earth. His movements and graceful attitude after leaving Centralis borough limits were favorably commented upon. His wheel is an up-to-date affair and all equipment pertaining to an advantageous journey complete, but it remained for a "shanty" goose to upset the equilibrium of our friend's postural, and after relieving himself of the debris he, disconsolate, wended his way to town for repairs, swearing vengeance on geese.

Head Badly Gashed.
William Nabols was badly gashed on the head with a beer glass in the hands of Thomas Paulakonis Saturday night. Dr. Stein put seven stitches in the wound. Nabols declined to prosecute his assailant.

Cow Killed.

Langton reduced the fracture. It is stated a claim for damages will be made against the borough, as the crossing is in bad condition.

The three-year-old child of John Jones and the 18-month-old child of Mrs. Henry Eckley, of Wm. Penn, were both interred in the Odd Fellows cemetery this afternoon. This is the second death in the family of Mrs. Eckley within a short time, her husband having died a month ago.

Referred to the Chief Burgess.
(Communicated.)
EDITOR HERALD:—Saturday's HERALD contained the announcement that "all boxes, barrels, etc., must be cleared away from the streets." This is a move in the right direction and our Borough Fathers are to be commended for their earnestness in enforcing our laws governing one abuse, but, did it ever strike our zealous Councilmen that while they were trying to abate minor abuses, they permitted for months or years greater ones that may at any time involve the borough in damage suits of large amounts? I refer to the dozen or more of brewery wagons allowed to occupy a prominent thoroughfare like Oak street, an eye sore to the residents and the thousands of good citizens who are compelled to use that street to go to their various places of Sunday worship. Your correspondent was compelled to cross over to the other side of the street owing to the pavement being occupied on Sunday morning by the horses of this favored company while being washed with a hose. This may be our Borough Fathers' way of doing things, but it would seem more consistent with good borough government if they would "stop leaks at the bung hole" before paying attention to the spigot. Perhaps the liquid consideration may be freely enough dispensed to cause some to "wink the other eye" at this favored brewery company's abuse of borough laws, but I am inclined to think it is only an oversight, and now that reforms are in order and a few boxes or barrels removed from the pavement, perhaps the dozen or more brewery wagons may go some time soon—if the barrel runs dry.

Vacating Their Dwellings.
Much excitement prevails at Rappahannock because of the ground sinking under many of the houses. The place where the ground is sinking is known as the Bear Ridge curve, and is undermined by the workings of the Packer No. 5 colliery. The trouble began a few days ago when the people noticed large fissures in the ground. The ground began to settle on Saturday, when Mrs. Dougherty's house went down so fast, that the family was compelled to move out. Several others vacated their dwellings. The P. & R. road is also endangered and is expected to go down at any moment.

He Deties Locks.
John Fredener was committed in default of $800 bail by Justice Toomey Saturday night for assault and battery on his brother, Michael Fredener, and his boarding mistress, Katie Kowanski. When Constable Gibbon went to get the prisoner yesterday morning to take him to jail he found an escape had been effected. Fredener was confined in the Council Chamber, the repairs to the lockout not being complete. He removed the lock from the door by taking out the screws.

The County Christian Endeavor officials held an important meeting bearing on the work of the organization at Pottsville on Saturday afternoon. All the officials were present. An impressive praise and prayer service was held which absorbed most of the afternoon. At the close of this service plans for the next convention were discussed. From the reports submitted the September reunion will be the largest Christian Endeavor gathering by big odds ever held in this county.

Shepton's Big Boom.
The little town of Shepton is just now experiencing great activity within its borders, and there is no doubt of a boom ahead for the place. A coal company is said to have recently bought seventy-five lots in which to erect a breaker. William Kimmel, of town, has established a large lumber yard there, and many other Shenandoahites have invested quite extensively in lots. Mahanoy City and Hazleton capitalists have also thought well of Shepton's future and invested in land there.

Baby Mangled to Death.
CHESTER, Pa., May 25.—Elizabeth Culp, 2 1/2 years of age, was crushed to death by a trolley car wheel. The toy was playing in front of her home, and started across the street just as the car came along. She was knocked down on the track and both wheels passed over her body, crushing and mangleing it in a shocking manner. Mrs. Culp a moment before had left the child and gone into the house. When she returned to the front door the woman was horrified by seeing her baby lying dead on the track. Mortician Michael Sullivan says he did not see the child.

Another Defeat for Johnson.
PARIS, May 25.—J. S. Johnson, the American wheelman, has not yet resumed his former good form. He was beaten yesterday by a length in the 2,000 metres scratch race by the Dutchman Egan. He was also beaten in the mile handicap. Johnson is engaged to meet Morin again next Sunday. His trainer, "Tom" Eck, has not expected him to be in form much before that time, but he claims he will give a good account of himself in that race.

The Resolution Garbled.
The delegates in attendance at the state convention of the German Catholic Societies, held at Pittsburg last week, state that the newspaper reports sent out bearing upon a resolution relative to the schools was badly garbled. The action taken upon this subject instructed the executive committee to fight any bill which might be introduced and which encroached upon the rights of parochial schools.
